Coming Soon New Addition to Willow Creek

A Safe Place for Our Seniors

A brand new establishment is coming to Willow Creek. Holly Riggs has purchased the old Barnaby Estate after it went up for auction last year and is planning to turn it into a nursing home according to council records.

During the monthly council meeting held on Tuesday, the members unanimously voted to approve the plans submitted by Ms. Riggs. The Golden Manor, according to meeting minutes, will house eight residents at a time with a recreation room, dining area, and visiting area on the first floor. Residents will be housed with two per room on the second floor.

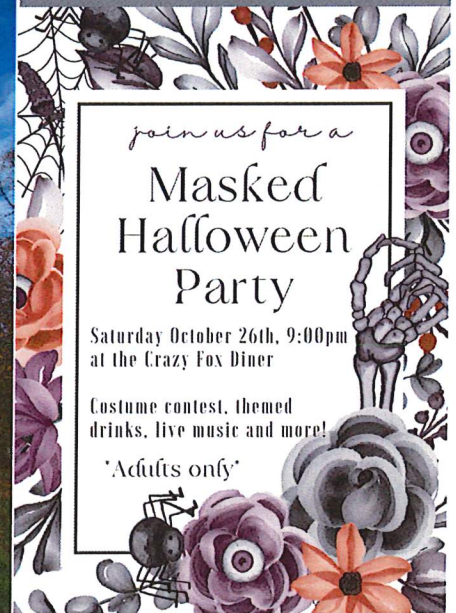

The full plans for the new Manor were not made available to the public at this time but Ms. Riggs assured the council the building will be brought up to code before the opening.

The project is set to begin next month and is slated to finish in late spring 2025 with a grand opening sometime in summer 2025.

Stay tuned as I'm sure this new venture will bring plenty of employment opportunities to our small town. Along with plenty of news worthy stories.
